

Academic Integrity and Honesty Policy P16-05

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Applies to: Faculty, staff, and students

Humboldt State University must maintain high standards which reflect the nature of an institution of higher learning. Students need to be aware of the academic standards that are expected throughout their college career.

Purpose of the Policy

The purpose of this policy is to establish that academic integrity is an essential component of the Humboldt State University learning community and shall be upheld by all members of the university community.

This policy is intended to reflect the University's commitment to the principles, goals, and ideals described in the Humboldt State University Vision Statement and to its core values.

Policy Details

I. The University Community

- a. Humboldt State University is a community of learners bonded together by the search for knowledge; the pursuit of personal, social, cultural, physical, and intellectual development; and the desire for the liberating effects of advanced education. Humboldt State University has an academic culture shared with other universities and colleges across the nation. Integral to that culture is a set of values such as academic freedom, dedication to teaching and learning, diversity, civility toward others, and academic integrity.
- b. Academic integrity is of central importance in the University community and involves upholding the values, the principles, and the code of behavior held to be central in that community. Integrity concerns honesty and implies being truthful, fair, and free from lies, fraud, and deceit. Inherent to the Humboldt State University community are the values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility.

II. Scholastic Honesty

- a. The core of this University's integrity is its scholastic honesty. Honesty is valued across all cultures and is a fundamental value in the academic culture. There are, however, cultural differences with regard to the ownership of ideas and the importance of individual efforts. Nonetheless, the University expects all students and other campus members to document the intellectual contributions of others and to ensure that the work they submit is their own.

III. Academic Dishonesty

- a. Academic dishonesty is willful and intentional fraud and deception to improve a grade or obtain course credit. It includes all student behavior intended to gain unearned academic advantage by fraudulent and/or deceptive means.
- b. Academic Dishonesty includes but is not limited to:
 - i. cheating, which includes possessing unauthorized sources of information during examinations, copying the work of others, permitting others to copy their work, submitting work done by others, completing assignments for others;
 - ii. plagiarism, which includes taking the words, ideas, or substance of another and either copying or paraphrasing the work without giving credit to the source through appropriate use of footnotes, quotation marks, or reference citations;

- iii. providing materials to another with the knowledge they will be improperly used;
- iv. purchasing or acquiring academic work from other students or third parties in person, online or through intermediary and submitting it as the students own work,
- v. possessing another's work without permission;
- vi. unauthorized recording, dissemination, or publication of academic work (including handwritten notes) for a commercial purpose (EDC § 66450, CSU Executive Order AA-2004-06). Altering the work of another with the intent of deceiving;
- vii. knowingly furnishing false or incomplete academic information;
- viii. altering documents that make up part of the student record;
- ix. forging signatures or falsifying information on any official academic document;
- x. altering work after grading and subsequently submitting it for re-grading;
- xi. submitting the same work for two or more classes without the permission of the all instructors involved;
- xii. retaining materials that they have instructed to return to the their instructor;
- xiii. inventing, dishonest adjusting, omitting or otherwise misrepresenting data or falsifying an account of the method through which data was generated.
- xiv. lying to an instructor or to a university official to improve a grade.

IV. Responsibilities of the Faculty

- a. Faculty members are expected to instill in their student's respect for integrity and a desire to behave honestly. Deception for individual gain is an offense against the members of the university community. To this end, faculty will take measures to discourage dishonesty, adjust grades appropriately if dishonesty is discovered, and recommend that additional administrative sanctions be considered. Grading policies are the exclusive prerogative of the faculty.

- b. Plagiarism may be considered a form of cheating and therefore subject to the same policy as cheating which requires notification of the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities and disciplinary action. However, as there may be plagiarism as a result of poor learning or inattention to format, and there may be no intent to deceive, some instructor discretion is appropriate. Under such circumstances, the instructor may elect to work with the student to correct the problem at an informal level. In any case that any penalty is applied, the student must be informed of the event being penalized and the penalty.
- c. When a faculty member discovers a violation of the university's policy of academic integrity, the faculty member is required to notify the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, in accordance with Executive Order 1073, and the student(s) involved to ensure that repeated violations do not go undetected as they occur in separate departments or with different faculty.
- d. If the academic dishonesty results in the failure of the course the instructor will report a grade of "FD" to the Registrar's Office.
- e. At faculty discretion grade of 'F' may be assigned to the assignment, examination, or another grade penalty may be applied at the discretion of the course instructor.
 - i. In the event that the academic dishonesty results in the failure of the course the instructor will report a grade of "FD".
 - ii. Additional disciplinary sanctions are determined by the Dean of Students.
 - iii. If a student denies the charges they will be permitted to remain in the class through the formal hearing process outlined in EO 1098.

- iv. Students may appeal an instructor's action to the student Grievance Committee. The "Grievance Policy and Procedure" govern a student's appeal of an instructor's academic sanction.
- f. The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities shall notify the student if a report is received.

V. The responsibility for the Students

- a. Students are responsible for the integrity of their actions and must be willing to accept the consequences of these actions.
- b. Students have the responsibility to be familiar with the University policies and to seek clarification with faculty if they are unclear about expectations for any assignment.
- c. Students are also encouraged to report academic dishonesty.
- d. In the sense that a university is a community, students should understand their own roles in the creation of the kind of culture that encourages honesty and discourages academic fraud.
- e. Students need not tolerate any action on the part of another that diminishes their own integrity or that of the University.

VI. Responsibilities of the University

- a. The University is responsible for providing faculty with resources and training to detect and identify academic dishonesty.
- b. To provide faculty with best practice guide for addressing academic dishonesty.

- c. The University is responsible for providing students with resources and training opportunities to avoid committing academic dishonesty.
- d. To provide students with clear and consistent guidance regarding their rights when charged with academic dishonesty.

VII. Disciplinary Sanctions

- a. Disciplinary sanctions may include but not limited to:
 - i. a warning,
 - ii. required to resubmit work or retake an exam under specified conditions and with a grade penalty at the discretion of the instructor,
 - iii. have the assignment or course grade adjusted to an “F,”
 - 1. If the course grade is adjusted, it is not subject to Grade Forgiveness at the discretion of the instructor.
 - iv. disciplinary probation,
 - v. suspension,
 - vi. permanent expulsion from the university or from the California State University system,
 - vii. administrative hold on the release of records, and
 - viii. withholding a degree.
- b. Disciplinary probation shall be noted on the student’s formal academic record only for the duration of the probationary period. Disciplinary suspension of more than one academic year and expulsion are a part of the student’s permanent record.

VIII. The California State University Disciplinary Procedures

- a. Student enrollment is a voluntary entrance into the academic community of learners. By such entrance, the student voluntarily assumes, and is expected to assume, obligations of performance and behavior that are imposed by the university relevant to its lawful missions, processes, and functions. Humboldt State University reserves the right to discipline students to secure compliance with these obligations.

- b. Students who engage in dishonest behavior shall be charged with violating Title 5, California Administrative Code, §41301, under the Student Disciplinary Procedures for the California State University established by Executive Order 1073 by the Chancellor. A copy of these procedures may be obtained from the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities.
- c. The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities will in consultation with the Academic Policies Committee establish disciplinary procedures for academic dishonesty.
 - i. Those procedures will be published on the website of the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities.
