Constitutions and Bylaws:

Integrated Curriculum Committee:
Senator Oliver reported that, via an Administrative memo sent to the Department Chairs, departments are directed to initiate a curriculum chill on proposals which do not clearly and compellingly decrease initial time to graduation, or fulfill mandates from the Chancellor’s Office. Senator Oliver ceded time to Interim Vice Provost Rock Braithwaite, who stated this curriculum chill is in response to the WSCUC directive to address assessment of student learning, in order to improve retention and graduation.

Statewide Senate (ASCSU):
- Written report attached

Associated Students
Senator Black-Lanouette reported that CNRS is hosting a mixer in Goodwin Forum after this meeting, the CPS mixer will be held March 28 from 6pm to 9pm in the University Center South Lounge, and that AS has appointed a CAHSS representative who’ll also be organizing a mixer.

- Written report attached

In addition to the written report, Interim VP of Administrative Affairs, Doug Dawes, reported a new webpage is live and details currently underway HSU capital projects, such as the Library and Theater buildings’ seismic retrofitting. He also reported the Integrated Assessment, Planning, and Budgeting Process Model Implementation Working Group (“FRED”) continues to address directives from chapter 7 of the WSCUC report, and the goals of the strategic plan, which indicate a need for uniformity of processes across the university. The completion of their process model validation will help HSU utilize current resources for strategic alignment.

President’s Report:
- Written report attached

Consent Calendar from the Integrated Curriculum Committee
The attached ICC Consent Calendar was unanimously approved

TIME CERTAIN 3:15-3:30 PM – Open Forum for the Campus Community
Student Reza Sadeghzadeh shared concerns about potential negative effects of budget cuts, stating he decided to attend HSU because of the favorable low student to teacher ratio, and feels that he was able to attain knowledge because teachers were able to dedicate time to him after and even outside of class. He is concerned now when he hears professors share they won’t have time to dedicate to students in the future.

Senator Byrd read a letter (attached) on behalf of Professor Alisha Gaskins, who was unable to attend due to her teaching schedule.

Resolution on LSEE Integrated Program Change (10-17/18-ICC – February 20, 2018) Second Reading
Dr. Marisol Ruiz-Gonzalez, of the School of Education, spoke in favor of the Resolution, sharing her experiences teaching the regular LSEE program and the pilot LSEE Integrated program, which have been overwhelmingly positive.

Senator Moyer spoke in favor of the Resolution, noting that in the current program, students learn a large amount of content sometimes years before they are able to use their knowledge in the classroom. The redesigned program allows for immediate content transfer, so students are better able to learn to teach.

TIME CERTAIN 4:15-5:00 PM – Dr. Brian Mistler, Corrina Wells, and Mira Friedman:
Presentation on HSU Student Health Data
Dr. Mistler, Corrina Wells, and Mira Friedman gave a presentation (attached) on HSU Student Health Data, and held a brief question and answer session until 5:04pm, at which time Senators Rizzardi, Frye, Eschker, Black-Lanouette and Bacio left Goodwin Forum.

- Jeremy Shellhase, Faculty (2016-2018)
- Joseph McDonald, Student (2017-2018)

Business:

Policy on working groups, councils, committees, and other groups convened to conduct business on behalf of the institution.

a. Description: CBC has been asked for a Constitution and Bylaws Interpretation of who is included in the campus community and should be allowed to attend Senate Meetings. This evolved into the CBC is researching sunshine laws (Ralph M. Brown Act and the Bagley-Keene Act) about public and nonpublic meeting types. CBC was advised by Alison N. Kleaver, University Counsel that HSU committees are not subject to either of these laws as Ralph M. Brown Act applies to legislative bodies of local agencies and Bagley-Keene Act applies to units doing business on behalf of the state.

b. Action: CBC is researching principles from these two laws and Peer CSU policies on defining Committees, Workgroups, task forces, Councils, associations, and other groups convened to conduct business on behalf of the university. In addition CBC is looking for guidelines for the “group’s” responsibility to be transparent (e.g., publish meetings dates/times, agenda, and meeting minutes).

c. Assignments based on “Jigsaw” Method
   i. Joice Chang: Ralph M. Brown Act
   ii. Jeremy Shellhase: Peer CSU Policy
   iii. Leena Dallasheh: Bagley-Keene Act
   iv. Mary Watson: HSU Policy
   v. Michael Le: CSU System Policy
   vi. Joseph McDonald: Peer CSU Policy

d. Senate Executive Update: On 2/13/2018 SenEx assigned the creation of this policy to CBC

e. Timeline:
   i. February 21, 2018 (CBC meeting) - Share research findings
   ii. March 7, 2018 (CBC meeting) - CBC review first draft
   iii. March 28, 2018 (CBC meeting) - CBC review first reading and vote to send to SenEx (4/3/18)
   iv. April 3, 2018 (SenEx) - Approval for Senate Agenda
   v. April 10, 2018 (Senate) - First Reading
   vi. April 24, 2018 (Senate) - Second Reading, official vote

Agenda:

1. Department Chair assigned time - review of feedback and next steps
2. Tenure Track Density - discuss content of a resolution
3. Faculty Awards - revisions to criteria, committee composition, application process

Meeting Notes:

2. Tenure Track Density - discuss content of a resolution
   a. The committee reviewed a draft resolution developed by the Chair. The Committee will review and revise with the intention of putting forward a Sense of Senate resolution in March.

3. Faculty Awards - revisions to criteria, committee composition, application process
   a. The Committee Chair shared feedback received from members of the Faculty Awards Committee regarding ways to streamline the awards process. Wrenn had asked the Awards Committee to consider these changes:
      i. Nomination letter from Department Head, Chair or designee
ii. Requiring up to three letters of support (two pages maximum) (for teaching awards, one letter from a student)

iii. Require an abbreviated CV only

iv. Word limit on statement of Teaching/Scholarship (one page)

v. Summary only of student evaluations (instead of last six years [sic])

b. Feedback from the current Faculty Awards chair indicated strong support for continuing with full CV; maintaining current nomination process; and making various adjustments to the submission process, including:
   i. Require table of contents;
   ii. Impose two-page limit on statements of teaching/scholarship;
   iii. Require a teaching statement from every applicant;
   iv. Require at least four letters of support;
   v. Submit materials in a combined PDF.

c. The Committee discussed various topics:
   i. Justifications for changing the current awards process;
   ii. Structural changes that could be made, including awards at the college level;
   iii. The importance of gearing nomination guidelines to magnitude of award (i.e., maintaining stricter criteria for Outstanding Professor);
   iv. How to better recognize and honor the many examples and forms of teaching excellence;
   v. Instituting new awards that honor community service (previously proposed to Senate) and diversity and inclusion efforts.

d. Discussion will continue.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Christine Miller, Chair
    Academic Senate

FROM: Timothy P. White

SUBJECT: The CSU Commitment to Inclusive Excellence

Please find attached a document titled The CSU Commitment to Inclusive Excellence.

A shared commitment to inclusive excellence permeates many of our most challenging and rewarding discussions and actions. It is inherent to the CSU mission. It is also a central tenet of existing law, system policy and campus practice.

My hope is that the attached document helps better draw the connection between our principles, policy and practice as we strive toward ever greater excellence through inclusion.

I am also distributing this document to campus leadership teams and California State Student Association leadership.

Attachment
The California State University (CSU) is committed to fostering a vibrant community of students, faculty, staff and administrators, all focused on the many dimensions of student success and academic excellence. On several occasions as Chancellor, I have spoken or written about the CSU’s and my personal commitment to inclusive excellence, underscoring its traditional values, especially the tenets of engaging and welcoming a rich diversity of people, voices and ideas. I also have expressed a more contemporary understanding, namely intellectual empowerment through equitable access to and engagement in excellent education, matched with opportunity for free expression. Indeed, it is the melding of these fundamental understandings of inclusive excellence – equitable participation and free expression – that enables the CSU to meet the needs and growing demands of a diverse global society.

Our commitment to the bedrock values of inclusive excellence will remain steadfast and is at the core of our day-to-day activities and in the lives of university community members who strive to create just and rigorous learning and discovery environments for all persons.

It is important for the CSU to always stand visibly for the values of inclusive excellence by promoting and sustaining equitable, physically safe, nurturing and challenging academic environments for all students, faculty, staff and guests. I remain firmly and unalterably committed to advancing these values at the CSU, as do the campus presidents, system-level executive leadership, our leadership teams and members of the university community.

The CSU Commitment to Values of Inclusive Excellence

Commitment to Inclusion and Engagement

The California State University values diversity and fosters understanding and mutual respect. We are committed to all members of the university community being afforded equitable opportunities to learn, discover and serve, as well as having equitable opportunities for personal development and engagement with others on campus and in the global community. In addition to the importance of this kind of authentic access, we know that academic excellence at the CSU depends on the higher and richer learning that occurs for all students when a university is diverse in its people, programs and shared ideas.

The CSU encourages members of our community to express and share their viewpoints, experiences and world views so that we may learn from each other. The CSU community aspires to respect differences and find commonalities while recognizing that many individuals may be encountering challenging and unfamiliar opinions and viewpoints for the first time. Initially, some individuals may not be prepared to respond to differing beliefs and perspectives. As a university we can and must assist members of our community to be prepared for civil discourse and effective analysis and research, so they may develop an understanding of even those viewpoints or opinions they might find unacceptable. Indeed, the learning that occurs from challenging encounters can promote growth and development within our university community, even when individuals experience something that they find repugnant or inconsistent with their values and upbringing.

The CSU is dedicated to recognizing and understanding the vast variety of personal experiences, histories, societal or institutional barriers, world views and perspectives that come to bear on important political, intellectual, environmental, economic and social matters, and to respecting differences when and where they exist.

Commitment to an Environment Free from Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation

A CSU core value is that all individuals within our community have the right to participate – free from unlawful discrimination, harassment and retaliation – in all university programs and activities. We commit to providing an accessible and intellectually challenging environment where all people are physically safe even if their ideas are challenged, sometimes strongly.

University leaders must also be attentive and responsive when anyone on campus feels excluded or unsafe, especially if a particular voice or group of voices is being silenced through intimidation or interference, because such limitations can lead to unequal learning environments and undermine our commitment to inclusive excellence.

Unlawful incidents of discriminatory, disruptive or criminal behavior have no place at the CSU, whether driven by anti-Semitism, bigotry, homophobia, Islamophobia, misogyny, religious animosity, sexual harassment or any other form of discrimination, implicit bias, prejudice or hate. Campuses must be attentive to such behaviors, and any such incidents must be reported immediately to university leaders, including campus police if necessary, and must be appropriately and fairly investigated. Individuals who are found responsible must be held accountable through student, faculty or staff discipline processes, and the criminal justice system when appropriate.

The CSU is committed to providing appropriate support for those community members who have been directly affected by incidents of discrimination, harassment, retaliation and criminal behavior.

Commitment to Free Speech

As a public university and consistent with our mission and requirements of both federal and state constitutions and laws, the CSU is committed to free thought and speech, including the right for all constituencies on our campuses to protest lawfully. This commitment is sacrosanct even when – or perhaps especially when – many of us strongly disagree with or find repulsive, abhorrent or hateful the viewpoints offered, as long as the activity is lawful and comports with our campus time, place and manner policies, which do not discriminate with regard to content.
or viewpoint. The expression of differing viewpoints and perspectives, as well as earnest and civil debates, are fundamental to the CSU mission and values and to democracy itself, and such expressions indeed are encouraged.

While we profoundly support the tenets of academic freedom and free speech – and concur that all members of the university are entitled to have their voices heard and considered on their own merits – it can be difficult when such speech conflicts with our values of inclusive excellence. The CSU, its faculty, staff, students and the community at large, are best served when all members, including the administration, contest and challenge speech and behaviors that, although protected and lawful, reflect bias, hate, bigotry, intolerance or contain misleading and untruthful assertions. Indeed, without challenge, we enable the normalization of intolerant or untruthful speech and the opinions therein as acceptable viewpoints. In response to protected but hateful or misleading speech, our reactions must be measured and may not interfere with the rights of others to gather, speak and engage in dialogue.

Commitment to Continual Improvement

New and continuing students, staff, faculty and administrators should seize every opportunity to be sufficiently educated through orientations, training programs and professional development opportunities and to be prepared to recognize all types of prejudice. Because no individual, institution or system of universities is perfect when articulating or applying the values of inclusive excellence, the system and campuses will revise the policies and practices as circumstances and needs evolve.

Policy Directives Uphold CSU’s Commitment to Inclusive Excellence

The CSU commitment to inclusive excellence is reflected in several policy directives at the system and campus levels. The following section summarizes the fundamental requirements that apply to the Chancellor’s Office and to all campuses and their satellite facilities, with the understanding that campuses build from system-level policy foundation and statute in developing local campus-based policies and practices.

The commitment to inclusion and engagement is codified in part by CSU Executive Orders 1096 and 1097, and by Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. Related policy language includes:

Executive Orders 1096 and 1097: The CSU is committed to maintaining an inclusive community that values diversity and fosters tolerance and mutual respect. We embrace and encourage our community differences in Age, Disability (physical and mental), Gender (or sex), Gender Identity (including transgender), Gender Expression, Genetic Information, Marital Status, Medical Condition, Nationality, Race or Ethnicity (including color or ancestry), Religion (or Religious Creed), Sexual Orientation, and Veteran or Military Status, and other characteristics that make our community unique.

Title 5 §41301: The University is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy living and learning environment for students, faculty, and staff. Each member of the campus community should choose behaviors that contribute toward this end. Students are expected to be good citizens and to engage in responsible behaviors that reflect well upon their university, to be civil to one another and to others in the campus community, and contribute positively to student and university life.
The commitment to an environment free from discrimination, harassment and retaliation is codified in part by Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. Related policy language includes:

Title 5 §41301: Student behavior that is not consistent with the Student Conduct Code is addressed through an educational process that is designed to promote safety and good citizenship and, when necessary, impose appropriate consequences. The following are the grounds upon which student discipline can be based... (3) Willful, material and substantial disruption or obstruction of a University-related activity, or any on-campus activity. (4) Participating in an activity that substantially and materially disrupts the normal operations of the University, or infringes on the rights of members of the University community. (5) Willful, material and substantial obstruction of the free flow of pedestrian or other traffic, on or leading to campus property or an off-campus University related activity. (6) Disorderly, lewd, indecent, or obscene behavior at a University related activity, or directed toward a member of the University community. (7) Conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person within or related to the University community, including physical abuse, threats, intimidation, harassment, or sexual misconduct.

The commitment to free speech is codified in part by Section 66301 of the California Education Code. Related statutory language includes:

California Education Code §66301: (a) Neither the Regents of the University of California, the Trustees of the California State University, the governing board of a community college district, nor an administrator of any campus of those institutions, shall make or enforce a rule subjecting a student to disciplinary sanction solely on the basis of conduct that is speech or other communication that, when engaged in outside a campus of those institutions, is protected from governmental restriction by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution or Section 2 of Article I of the California Constitution... (c) This section does not authorize a prior restraint of student speech or the student press. (d) This section does not prohibit the imposition of discipline for harassment, threats, or intimidation, unless constitutionally protected. (e) This section does not prohibit an institution from adopting rules and regulations that are designed to prevent hate violence... if the rules and regulations conform to standards established by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and Section 2 of Article I of the California Constitution for citizens generally. (f) An employee shall not be dismissed, suspended, disciplined, reassigned, transferred, or otherwise retaliated against solely for acting to protect a student engaged in conduct authorized under this section, or refusing to infringe upon conduct that is protected by this section, the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, or Section 2 of Article I of the California Constitution.

Title 5 §41301 Standards for Student Conduct.
Dear UC President Janet Napolitano, CSU Chancellor Timothy White, and CCC Chancellor Eloy Oakley:

Thank you for your recent statements, collectively and individually, about the importance of our Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) students. As you are aware, California has the largest concentration of DACA students in the country, and they represent some of the best hope for our future.

We are writing to request an additional measure of support from you as President and Chancellors of California’s public higher education institutions. Many of our DACA and Dreamer students have needed legal assistance and other forms of support in the wake of the federal administration’s decision to rescind the DACA program last September.

Unfortunately, not all of our campuses have support services in place to assist these students. While all nine of the University of California undergraduate campuses have physical support centers for DACA, temporary protected status (TPS), and undocumented students, only about half of the California State University campuses have a dedicated support location, and less than half of the California Community Colleges have permanently dedicated personnel or physical support locations to assist these students.

We request that you jointly explore the possibility of expanding these support services and, if feasible, allow DACA and Dreamer students to use the support facilities and services at any UC, CSU or CCC campus statewide, regardless of their enrollment in a different system, without fear of repercussion or retribution and without need for payment. The difference such a gesture will make to our students will be incalculable.

Thank you again for your continued support of DACA students across the state and we look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Christine Miller

Facilities

- Facilities presented a draft of the Campus Space Management Policy Implementation guidelines to URPC on February 9
- Capital Projects website launched: HSU Capital Projects
  The site includes updates for the seismic retrofit projects at the Library and Theater Arts

Procurement

- Revising forms to include vice president signature line to assist with the spending of $2,000 or more

Risk Management

- There has been a distinct increase in Natural Area Entrance Permit requests. These permits are for use of city property (Arcata Community Forest, Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary). This is affecting the City a bit and sometimes the processing takes longer than desired. We are working with the City whether to alter the process to relieve some burden from them but continue the experience for the student (working through the permit process), continue to communicate any after-hours use of the areas, and continue to share the University’s research results.
- The campus wide safety committee was re-established last academic year. This year has had regularly scheduled meetings with good attendance.
- Historically we have used an outside vendor to conduct respirator fit testing (at approx. $20 per person, the rate fluctuated). In order to limit costs, we now conduct these tests. Occupational Safety recently conducted 25 tests for facility management and housing.
- Since our online defensive driving class was a success we will soon be releasing a food safety course. Presently we pay $15 per person to an outside vendor for this service.
- Reminder - we have 10 slots per month for CPR classes (in McKinleyville). Please sign up with Paul Vrabel.
- We have been recently notified that we will have a business continuity audit this summer.

Budget

President’s Office:

Submitted by Lisa Rossbacher, President, Humboldt State University

I regret that I will be unable to attend the University Senate meeting on February 20. I’ll be at the CSU Chancellor’s Office in Long Beach attending the Council of Presidents’ meeting.

As the Senate will undoubtedly be discussing today, a number of steps have already been taken to bring HSU’s spending into alignment with our resources. We must, as a University community, reduce spending (and eliminate overspending) or increase revenues by $9 million. As a reminder from the February 2 budget forum, the following actions have already been taken or are in progress:

- Reducing current year operating expense budgets by 5%;
- Continuing Cabinet review of all staff and administrator hiring requests;
- Aligning all course offerings for 2018-19 with demonstrated student course need and available resources;
- Requiring all travel and all expenditures of $2,000 or more to be approved by the appropriate vice president;
- Incorporating campus feedback into the budget reduction plan that will be sent to the University Resources and Planning Committee on February 22; and
- Benchmarking HSU’s spending by function (i.e., FIRMS code) with CSU system data.

I will forward a proposed budget plan to URPC on February 22. This plan will also be posted on the University Budget Office website. This budget plan will have several critical elements, including emphasizing its context, identifying activities that we will restructure or discontinue, and highlighting the connection of actions to our values. Parts of the budget plan are still being developed, and in some cases additional information is needed to be able to make informed and data-based decisions. As a result, some aspects of the plan may be less specific than some members of the University community want or expect. I assure you that the details of this plan will continue to become more specific over the coming days and weeks.

The short-term steps that have already been identified include the elimination of an estimated 40-50 budgeted staff and administrator positions. Employees are a key strategic asset to the University, and I am committed to addressing these reductions through vacant positions and reassignments to the greatest extent possible. To date, no determination has been made that any layoff procedures need to be implemented.

I deeply appreciate the University Senate’s support and understanding of the critical importance of addressing our serious budget deficit immediately.

As always, I am available to answer questions.
My name is Alisha Gaskins and here is my story. I am an alum of HSU and a current lecturer in Anthropology. I moved to Humboldt from Philadelphia in 1998, received my BA here in 2003 in Anthropology and Art (a double major), and earned my MA in Social Science in 2011 through the interdisciplinary Environment and Community program. My family has made Humboldt our home. I have always been interested in bridging different disciplines and divisions, especially between science, art, anthropology, social justice, and health.

I have been a part-time and temporary lecturer in Anthropology since 2014 and love this job more than any other job I've ever had. I have found my true passion in higher education and am inspired everyday by our students, especially those who ask really good questions and participate in really difficult conversations. I learn so much from them. I am teaching 80 of them about human biology, evolution, diversity, and health right now, which is why I couldn't make it to this meeting. Throughout the past few years, I have formed genuine and meaningful relationships with countless students, all coming from different backgrounds and interests, all with unique stories and experiences, all of which deserve to be valued and uplifted. These relationships are what make me get out of bed in the morning and also keep me up at night.

Last semester I heard that budget cuts were coming soon and that my mentor teacher and very dear friend was returning from an administrative position to teach in our department. This combination of events made it unlikely that there would be any courses left for me to teach in the Fall. Needless to say I was upset and because I'm open and honest with my students, I told them. I consistently remind my students of their individual and collective power here, but I honestly did not expect or predict that they would take action on my behalf, but they did, big time. They wrote letters and emails to my department chair and the dean of our college to let them know that they did not want me to go. They started a petition and met with the dean to deliver their message in person. I am truly honored by their show of support. This is what I mean when I say that our students are incredibly inspiring.

It is very meaningful for me to have my efforts recognized by my students, my coworkers, my department, and my college. However, even with this show of support, I have only been tentatively offered a one-unit course in the Fall. What this means for me and my family is that I will lose my livelihood, half of our income, and our health insurance and other benefits. To top it off, I am pregnant and expecting our second child at the end of July. This should be a happy and joyous time for us, but now we are faced with this loss of income and health insurance, and I will have virtually no parental leave.
I am actually glad I am not here with you all telling my story myself because I would probably be in tears right now. You see, I study and teach about the effects of stress on the body, on historically oppressed groups of people (including my own), and on developing babies in utero. I have been extremely anxious and fearful for the past two weeks. Everyday I am trying to maintain my composure in and out of classroom with students, and at home with my 4-year old, but it has been incredibly difficult.

Someone is telling you my story right now, but I am sure that there are many others who are in similar situations or will find themselves in a similar situation soon. I am just one of many HSU lecturers who will be losing their jobs, one of hundreds across the CSU system. In addition, these cuts in courses will effect thousands of HSU students and tens of thousands of CSU students. Students will be forced to enroll in larger classes where they won't get the attention or quality of education that they deserve, that they are paying for, that they may be going into debt for decades for (like me). This will definitely affect student retention, a problem we already face here. These students won't have the opportunity to graduate in the timeline they had envisioned because the courses they need won't be offered when they need them or they will simply be full and unavailable. Some students may stick it out, but others won't be able to and they'll drop out and leave. This will also compound the already existing struggles our students face in securing safe housing and nutritious food, which is always worse for students of color and impoverished students. I have heard their stories and try to help however I can. Soon I may not be here to support them. This breaks my heart.

At this point, I don't know who is responsible for the budget shortfalls and the impacts it will have on our faculty, students, and community, or how to hold them accountable. I can only trust that more information and analyses will be circulating soon and I hope that we, as a community of students, faculty, staff, and administration, can reach across our divisions and come together to create the University we want. As I tell my students, this is cultural - we created this system and, therefore, only we can change it. Thank you for listening to my story. I look forward to hearing yours.

In solidarity,

Alisha

Here’s what we know:

1. Large numbers of HSU students are anxious, depressed, and suicidal and for years have faced barriers to treatment including being underinsured, all in higher proportion than national/CSU benchmarks.

In 2017 economist Daniel Eisenberg helped us study the HSU student mental health needs at the population level and its connection to retention. He found:

- 1746 students with untreated mental health problems

Treating 100 prevents 6.48 dropouts.

If we can treat 1000 of the 1746, that's 64.8 students (conservatively).

If we treated ALL 1746 it would be 113

113 Students A Year More Who Could Persist With Required Capacity

Accessing a psychiatrist on campus is even worse than in Arcata/Eureka; 23% of HSU students arrive having been on a psychotropic medication in the past year.
Student Needs
HSU students are facing a healthcare shortage on campus and we have a responsibility to fix it.

- 1,700+ HSU students have untreated mental health concerns
- More than 100 students leave HSU each year because of untreated health barriers
- Community health resources are expensive and too few to make up for the campus shortage
